RURENER is happy to invite you to its General Assembly, hosted by Le Pays de Combraille en Marche (France) and to the field study tour "From idea to action for the energy transition in rural Europe", that will take place from September 12th to September 14th 2018 in Creuse. To learn about innovations for rural energy, meet European partners and exchange with your peers, discover the programme of the event and register now!

Who can participate ?

All members of the RURENER network are invited to the event, as well as other stakeholders committed to the energy transition in rural Europe and that want to broaden their perspectives.

Why take part in the event ?

- ✓ To develop your own approach of the energy transition and stimulate interest on your territory ;
- ✓ To give a European dimension to your local projects through RURENER ;
- ✓ To network: meet elected representatives and other stakeholders of rural energy from Europe ;
- ✓ To find common solutions to shared challenges and initiative new cooperation opportunities ;
- ✓ To benefit from a scientific, technical but also socio-economic approach of energy innovations and facilitate their adaptation to your territory ;
- ✓ To get inspired !

The host: Le Pays de Combraille en Marche (Creuse, France)

Located in the central mountain range of France, Le Pays de Combraille en Marche is part of the Creuse department. It is composed of two associations of municipalities: Creuse Confluence and Marche et Combraille en Aquitaine. It is described as an hyper-rural territory with an average of 17 inhabitants per square mile, a total of 30,000 inhabitants in 100 municipalities. The territory developed energy transition projects such as anaerobic digestion plants, solar PV, wind farms and fuelwood. Since 2017, Le Pays de Combraille en Marche committed to a Positive Energy Territory (TEPOS) strategy with ambitious goals for 2050.

The five pillars of the strategy are: the exemplariness of the public authorities (innovative projects and low consumptions); development of renewable energies (and use of waste energy from industries); mobility (linked to the hyper-rural character of the territory and source of energy insecurity); building of an inclusive energy strategy (participatory approach). In September, Le Pays invites you to discover its actions for the energy transition by co-organizing RURENER General Assembly 2018. The city of Jarnages will welcome us during this General Assembly.
